

Exercise in copyright

How may I use illustrations?

The task is to find three illustrations (a figure, an image and a table) that is uploaded under a license that allows you to reuse the work without asking for permission. This type of license is called copyleft license, such as a creative commons license.

Use the search tool search creative commons and the image database wikimedia commons.

In all three cases add the condition of the license for what you can do with the illustrations.

You will find answers on the next page.

1) Find a figure that describes Maslow's hierarchy of needs.

2) Find a map of present-day Sweden.

3) Find a table that shows the population of Sweden by age.

4) Write correct references to these sources.

- 1) Search term: Maslow Hierarchy of Needs

Reference:

Factoryjoe (2009). Mazlow's Hierarchy of Needs [figure].

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File%3AMaslow's_Hierarchy_of_Needs.png

License: Creative Commons (BY-SA) [2017-06-29]

- 2) Search term: Kartor över Sverige

References:

Koyos (2009). Map of Sweden Topography [map].

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File%3AMap_of_Sweden_Topography_\(polar_stereographic\)_Sv.svg_Sv.svg) [2017-06-29]

- 3) Search term: Population pyramid of Sweden.

Reference:

The Central Intelligence Agency (2015). Population pyramid of Sweden 2015 [table].

https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/File%3APopulation_pyramid_of_Sweden_2015.png [2017-06-29]

Övningar i upphovsrätt av Linköpings universitet är licensierad under en Creative Commons Erkännande-IckeKommersiell-DelaLika 4.0 Internationell licens

